

AMAZING Australian Gymnastics Championships

Development Team, Monday, 12 March 2012

As you all know in May 2012, Gymnastics Australia will host the most amazing sporting event. But did you also know

In this Olympic year, the combined Australian Championships of five gymnastics sports and the Olympic Selection trials for Men's Gymnastics, Women's Gymnastics, Rhythmic Gymnastics and Trampoline will be showcased in a 12 day festival of gymnastics.

1,300 athletes

600 officials

35 sessions

over 6000 routines

the Japanese WG Olympic Team

and that's just the beginning...

Participants and spectators will not only be amazed by the standard of competition, they'll be immersed in an experience like never before: entertainment, activities to get involved, educational workshops, a kids zone for interactive gymnastics and more...

In addition to the action on the competition floor, the Championships will signal the beginning of the Prime Ministers Olympic and Paralympic Challenge. Gymnastics is one of the prominent sports involved in the challenge that will be actively encouraging primary school children to get out and try some of the sports that they'll be seeing at the London Games.

And that's not all. The Championships will also host the launch of the Gymnastics Australia Fundamentals Program – LaunchPad. This program has been designed to teach primary school aged children the fundamental movement skills required to give them the competence and confidence for a lifelong involvement in physical activity.

As you can see, the 2012 Australian Gymnastics Championships will provide a springboard for the future of Gymnastics and for the development of kids in sport in Australia.

It's going to be amazing!

We can't wait to see you there!
