

Play by the Rules - July / August Edition

Tuesday, 23 July 2013

This edition is packed again with all the news, events and articles related to safe, fair and inclusive sport.

We're fully into the Winter sporting season now - I hope you're enjoying the chilly early morning starts setting up the gym, working the canteen, and seeing the kids get such a buzz from the thrill of training, competing and the camaraderie that Gymnastics brings.

In this edition we look at the Working With Children Check (WWCC) and the important role they play in screening people who are involved in sport to help ensure a child-safe environment is maintained for all. There have been recent updates to the WWCC laws in NSW, so be sure that you keep up-to-date with the latest information, which is available through state/territory fact sheets on our site.

Hot on the heels of the successful Play by the Rules/Racism It Stops With Me TV Community Service Announcement, which is received extensive national airplay and has been watched online over 240,000 times, we have just released six 30-second radio CSAs for the campaign. Featuring some of the biggest names in sport, the ads carry the same simple message - racism has no place in sport and everyone deserves a fair go, regardless of their skin colour, background or culture. You can listen to their messages, along with those from a range of other sporting legends on our website.

We're fully into the Winter sporting season now - I hope you're enjoying the chilly early morning starts setting up the grounds and courts, working the canteen and sausage sizzles, and seeing the kids get such a buzz from the thrill of competing and the camaraderie that grassroots sport brings.

In this edition we look at the Working With Children Check (WWCC) and the important role they play in screening people who are involved in sport to help ensure a child-safe environment is maintained for all. There have been recent updates to the WWCC laws in NSW, so be sure that you keep up-to-date with the latest information, which is available through state/territory fact sheets on our site.

Hot on the heels of the successful Play by the Rules/Racism It Stops With Me TV Community Service Announcement, which is received extensive national airplay and has been watched online over 240,000 times, we have just released six 30-second radio CSAs for the campaign. Featuring some of the biggest names in sport, the ads carry the same simple message - racism has no place in sport and everyone deserves a fair go, regardless of their skin colour, background or culture. You can listen to their messages, along with those from a range of other sporting legends on our website.

We hope you enjoy.

Play by the Rules
C/O Australian Sports Commission
PO Box 176, Belconnen, ACT, 2616, AUSTRALIA

Other Links

Play by the Rules July - August edition